

Loss and Prevention Control: Safety Minute

REACT to a fire

How would you "react" to a fire? It's truly hard to say until you are put in that position. We have an emergency response plan, but chances are greater you'll be involved in a fire when you're not at work than when you are.

Many people find it's easier to remember the steps in a process when you make an acronym out of them. So let's review how to "REACT" to a fire.

- R - Remove persons from immediate danger!
- E - Ensure doors and windows are closed (smoke/fire spread prevention)!
- A - Activate the building alarm (inform the people)!
- C - Call the fire department!
- T - Treat all fires as dangerous!
